Seniors Have Spoken – and we were heard!

Now, we no longer need to march!

For the first time seniors have spoken with one voice – and we have been heard!

The unbelievable fear and heartbreak that has swept through Queensland ended on Thursday morning, when the Queensland Government informed the media that they had changed their mind about taking pensioners' concessions away.

One of the happiest times I'll remember in future is the ringing around, spreading the good news.

What a huge difference this will make to all of the anxious seniors, who could only see a hopeless fear for their future.

One thing is certain: in the last few weeks, we seniors have become united as never before.

Now, we will fight for justice - rather than see the most vulnerable suffer.
